

ONLINE RESOURCE LINKS

Videos

Visit The LearnWell Projects' YouTube channel at bit.ly/LearnWell_youtube to get new resources and free materials. Subscribe, like, leave a comment, and ring the notification bell on the YouTube site. Below are links to some of the most popular videos.

- Differentiating Thinking Skills
Excellent animated video with students describing their experiences
- Differentiating Thinking Skills (in-class)
Useful animated walk-through of how the different thinking levels play out in a class
- Go for Green Constructive Learning
Playlist showing students to use learning outcomes to build your knowledge
- How to Think in College (Part of learning tips video)
Helps students understand key factors of their thinking
- Metacognitive Teaching Tactics
Useful teaching tactics for humanities educators
- Metacognitive Teaching Tactics: 1-Month Check-in Session
A check-in session with educators after 1-month of using metacognitive instruction

Articles

Visit The LearnWell Projects' blog at thelearnwellprojects.com/thewell for informative articles. Below are links to a few of the most popular articles.

- Why good students do “bad” in college
Most popular article that explains key differences between high school and college
- College Success Fundamentals
Features The ABCs of Academic Work assignments, a superb way to kickstart student success in any course
- Student Success in STEM Fields
A “must read” article for success in math-based courses
- Systematically Improving Math Course Scores
Where math instructors unintentionally go wrong and learn how to make things right
- Using the Learning Sufficiency Diagram
Illustrative article on how to use the Learning Sufficiency Diagram

Making Learning More Visible,
Manageable, and Effective
thelearnwellprojects.com